PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

Walker Road Ranch is a versatile multi-use property offering a combination of rolling terrain, mature mesquite and hackberry cover, native and improved grasses, and excellent opportunities for both cattle production and recreational use. The ranch is thoughtfully laid out with three ponds located on the northern portion of the property, tucked into thick timber that provides privacy, cover, and valuable wildlife habitat.

A scenic high point along the eastern boundary provides sweeping views across the ranch to the south and west, making it an ideal spot to take in the surrounding countryside. The southern portion of the property features a 56 acre cross-fenced grass pasture, providing flexibility for a variety of agricultural uses. This pasture could be utilized for hay production or planted in wheat, sunflowers, or other seasonal crops to supplement cattle grazing and enhance wildlife habitat.

Located just three and a half miles from Olney, Texas, Walker Road Ranch sits in an area of Young County where farming and ranching remain an important part of the landscape. The surrounding agricultural activity helps support a healthy wildlife population, with opportunities to see migratory dove, whitetail deer, feral hogs, and a variety of other wildlife and varmints.

Whether you're looking to expand an existing cattle operation, establish a productive grazing and hunting property, or simply own a weekend ranch close to town, Walker Road Ranch offers the versatility, location, and natural features to make it a truly attractive North Texas property.
