118 +/- Acre Row Crop Farm for Sale in Fisher, Arkansas | Irrigated Farmland & Duck Hunting Fisher, AR / Poinsett County

PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

Prime Poinsett County Farmland — Where Agriculture & Waterfowl Come Together

There's a reason Poinsett County farmland is so highly sought after—this is serious farm country and serious duck country. Known for exceptional rice and row-crop production, Poinsett County is also positioned in the heart of some of Northeast Arkansas's most desirable waterfowl hunting territory. That powerful combination of productive agricultural ground and recreational demand is one reason quality farms in this area can command premium prices.

This 118 +/- acre farm just outside Fisher, Arkansas gives you the opportunity to own land in an area where agricultural production and duck hunting potential go hand in hand. Currently planted in soybeans for the 2026 crop year, the property features an irrigation well with a gearhead that can be ran off electric or a power unit and has historically produced agricultural income through cash rent. The current 2026 arrangement is crop share and is on a year-to-year basis, giving a future owner flexibility for future farming arrangements.

But the income potential doesn't necessarily stop when harvest is over. This farm also has a history of recreational income from duck hunting, and the seller has not leased the hunting rights for the 2026–2027 waterfowl season. That leaves a new owner with the opportunity to enjoy the hunting personally or explore leasing those rights for additional recreational income.

For the farmer looking to expand, the investor searching for quality Arkansas farmland, or the waterfowl hunter who wants to own ground in the heart of Northeast Arkansas farm country, this property checks a lot of boxes.

Farm it. Lease it. Hunt it. Invest in it.
