Secluded Hunting Tract Boley, OK / Okfuskee County

PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

Located down a secluded dirt road, this hunting farm has a lot to offer. This 40 acres is covered with scattered hardwood timber and many small pockets of grass that would be a great location for a food plot or a feeder. There is an open spot that is already set up to attract whitetails and other game. Coming from every direction, there are deer trails winding throughout the entire property. This farm also features a great trail system that allows you to move throughout the land as efficiently as possible. There is a very small pond that works great as a water source for the wildlife. On the south portion of the property, there is a concrete slab in place in case you would want any kind of structure built on the property. If one is interested in putting a remote hunting cabin on the property, there is electricity towards the northwest corner of the property. While you are very remote, you still are not far from any town in case you are in need of any amenities. Not everyday you come by a property that truly allows you to get away to enjoy the outdoors while feeling like nobody else is around.
