Property Description: Situated in the scenic tree lined canyon country of Central Kansas lies this awesome 290 acre Whitetail and Turkey Property. A creek bottom that is over 1.5 miles long is currently dry but typically has water in it to provide for wildlife and cattle alike. Great elevation change across this property provides overlooks for hunting. This property produces multiple trophy turkeys and mature Whitetail bucks each year. With minimal hunting pressure, this property has a great population of both and has not been overhunted in past years. A unique historic limestone house is located in the center of the property providing a great place to park a camper so you dont have to travel to hunt this trophy producing property. There is approximately 80 acres that can be used as tillable ground and would make for a great food plot. There is no other agricultural food source for nearly a mile allowing you to draw in wildlife from the surrounding area. There have been one of a kind bucks shot on this property including a trophy non-typical Whitetail.

290+/- acres of fenced grassland provides for cattle with shelter among the trees in the bottom. Multiple dugout ponds and the creek bottom provide water for cattle. Seller would lease the grazing back
