

LOTT CREEK RETREAT

MCCORMICK COUNTY, SC

185.88 +/- ACRES

$975,000

PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

Lott Creek Retreat is a 185.88-acre property in McCormick County, South Carolina, offering an excellent combination of timber investment, recreation, and rural appeal. With 424 feet of Highway 81 frontage, nearly 3,000 feet along Lott Creek, and partial ownership in a shared 5-acre pond, the property offers both convenient access and an abundance of natural features.

The property includes 95 acres of improved loblolly pine planted around 12 years ago, along with 17 acres of older planted pine. Naturally regenerated pine and hardwoods round out the property, creating a diverse landscape and quality wildlife habitat. An existing interior road system provides a foundation for access and can be improved for future recreational and timber use.

Lott Creek is a defining feature, providing extensive frontage, wildlife habitat, and scenic character. With strong hunting potential, quality timber, pond access, and Highway 81 frontage, Lott Creek Pines offers a versatile opportunity for a recreational buyer or timber investor.

A conservation easement permits timber management and recreational use, along with one main residence, one secondary residence, agricultural buildings, and one subdivision opportunity. Additional details regarding the easement and permitted uses are available upon request.
