PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

Nestled in the heart of Missouri's elk country, this 53-acre retreat lies just miles from the historic Peck Ranch, where thousands of elk were reintroduced into the state. Elk have been spotted right on the property, and the area is also home to black bears, with abundant deer and turkey frequently seen roaming the yard. This recreational paradise features two ponds—one stocked with bass, catfish, and bluegill—ideal for fishing and family fun. The property borders Mark Twain National Forest on two sides, offering direct access to thousands of acres for hiking, hunting, and exploring. The land boasts mature, marketable timber and a park-like setting with breathtaking views of Shannon County from the ridgeline where the home sits. The 4-bedroom, 3-bathroom, 1800sqft home, perfect as a full-time residence or a weekend getaway. Additional features include a root cellar in the basement—ideal for canning and storage—a small orchard with pecan, apple, peach, and pear trees, as well as grapevines. There's ample room to expand with a vegetable garden, making this a true homesteader's dream. Whether you're seeking solitude, wildlife, or outdoor adventure, this property offers it all in a setting rich with natural beauty and recreational opportunity.
