Jefferson County Ranch 75

Waurika, OK / Jefferson County

PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

Jefferson County Ranch is a combination ranch with native grass pastures, thickets and mesquite timber. The property has gently rolling topography and overlooks the Red River valley in Western Jefferson County. This area is known for excellent deer and turkey hunting, but the property is also situated in big ranch country and will support about a cow/calf pair per 10 to 12 acres. The topography in the wooded draws lends itself for the construction of new ponds. With quail whistling and big scenic views, this ranch has the feeling of West Texas, but is less than two hours Northwest of DFW. Additional land available.

This property recently underwent a prescribed burn which will help reduce weeds and woody vegetation while increasing the growth of healthy native grass and forbs.

This ranch is a part of a larger landholding with tracts available from 25 to 75 acres in size.
