Whitetail Hills Ranch
Milburn, OK / Johnston County

PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

Whitetail Hills Ranch consists of 160 acres ideally situated between Connerville and Bromide, Oklahoma, nestled among several large landholdings in an area well known for its rugged terrain and exceptional whitetail deer. One of the most beneficial features of this property is its perfect layout—it measures exactly one mile from front to back, giving it the feel and huntability of a much larger tract. The ranch comes fully outfitted with two box blinds, each with an All Seasons corn feeder and an All Seasons protein feeder. Both setups overlook established food plots with ponds nearby, creating ideal conditions for deer and wildlife. In total, there are three bodies of water on the property—two ponds and a waterfowl slough—providing year-round water sources and great hunting diversity. Toward the south end of the ranch, you'll find an old homesite with an existing electric meter and water well, making it a perfect location for your hunting camp or future cabin site.
