PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

This newly surveyed 91.58-acre recreational and hunting property offers a great blend of privacy, use, and future building potential. Located along a county-maintained gravel road, the property features approximately 3 acres of mostly flat ground near the entrance that could serve as a homesite, cabin location, or campsite.

Brushy Creek borders the northern boundary, with additional branches flowing along the East and West property lines, providing water features and additional wildlife habitat. The property contains a mix of hardwood timber along with existing logging trails. While portions of the tract are steep, the terrain transitions into more rolling ridge tops and saddle systems that offer excellent hunting opportunities and ATV exploration potential with some trail improvements.

Electric is available at the road, and an existing water well is located near the outbuilding, though testing and potential repairs/parts would be needed before use. Additionally, a septic system could potentially be installed pending a successful perc test.

Whether you're looking for a hunting retreat, recreational getaway, or a place to build and enjoy the outdoors, this property offers the seclusion and versatility that land buyers are searching for. All rights owned by the seller, including mineral rights, will convey to the buyer at closing.
