PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

Located on the edge of Gregory, South Dakota, this exceptional  $39.96\pm$  acre tract offers a rare blend of high-quality farmland and forward-looking development potential. Positioned for both productivity and progress, the property sits just outside the city limits with gravel road access on two sides via East 1st Street and County Road 17, ensuring excellent accessibility for agricultural operations today and future development tomorrow.

The farmland features an impressive 87.12 CPI soil productivity rating, underscoring its ability to deliver strong yields year after year. Silty clay loam and silt loam soils dominate the tract, providing an ideal foundation for row crop production and long-term soil performance. This is the type of ground serious operators seek: consistent, fertile, and well-located.

Beyond its agricultural value, the property's location sets it apart. With a new hospital and expanding commercial development located just west of the property boundary, this acreage sits in the path of growth for the Gregory area. Its proximity to town utilities, services, and infrastructure creates compelling potential for future development, whether residential, commercial, or mixed-use, subject to zoning and approvals.

Properties that combine elite soil quality, strategic access, and growth-oriented location are increasingly hard to find. Whether your goal is to expand a high-performing farming operation, secure land with long-term appreciation potential, or position yourself ahead of community expansion, this Gregory County offering delivers on all fronts. This is productive land with a future, an opportunity to invest where agriculture and development intersect. Invest.
