The image is an aerial photograph showing a large, irregularly shaped property outlined in red. The property is mostly a light brown, tilled field. A dense line of green trees runs along the left and top-left edges of the property. To the top of the property is a large, dark pond with some green algae. To the right of the property, there is a small area with a white building and a striped awning. At the bottom of the image is a paved road. A red arrow points from the letter 'N' to the left, indicating North is towards the left side of the image.
