WELCOME TO THE HEMPSTEAD 127

WELCOME TO A TRUE SOUTH ARKANSAS HUNTING AND RECREATIONAL RETREAT. Located in Hempstead County outside of Nashville, Arkansas, the Hempstead 127 is a diverse and well-laid-out 127± acre property offering exceptional waterfowl, deer, and turkey hunting across an ideal mix of habitats.

As you enter the property, you're greeted by approximately 31 acres of thick cover—prime bedding and travel corridor habitat that immediately sets the tone for the recreational value this tract offers. The established access leads you through this cover and opens into a beautiful 22± acre pasture system designed with natural drainage that gently funnels down into a well-positioned duck hole. The duck hole is a standout feature. Designed to flood naturally, it is supported by a surrounding levee system and accented with willows throughout, creating both ideal concealment and an attractive waterfowl environment. This setup provides excellent opportunities for consistent duck hunting while maintaining strong habitat diversity across the tract.

MORE ABOUT THE HEMPSTEAD 127

Crossing over Ozan Creek on the backside of the Hempstead 127, you'll find an additional 30± acres of mature and younger timber. This section is loaded with wildlife signs and offers phenomenal deer and turkey hunting. The combination of hardwoods, mixed timber, bedding cover, and nearby water creates a year-round wildlife sanctuary.

Overlooking the pasture and duck hole sits a cabin equipped with electricity and water, making it ready for immediate use. The front porch offers a peaceful vantage point. It's a true gathering spot that brings the entire property into view.

The Hempstead 127 is a rare opportunity to own a well-balanced recreational tract with established waterfowl infrastructure, strong deer and turkey habitat, live water, and comfortable lodging already in place. Whether you're looking for a private hunting retreat, a family camp, or a long-term recreational investment, this property checks all the boxes.

Contact Lane Chapman or Luke Alston today to schedule a private showing or for more information.
