MORE ABOUT THE PAYETTE 84.34

Your horses will appreciate the irrigated pastureland, and their rider will appreciate the opportunity to explore almost 2,000 acres of contiguous public land.

For investment value, consider the possibility of dividing the land into lots to build your own multi-generation or equestrian community. The rolling terrain is both beautiful and functional for riding, dog training, or just wildlife habitat.

ABOUT PAYETTE COUNTY

PAYETTE COUNTY is located in southwest Idaho on the Oregon border. The county was established in 1917, partitioned from Canyon County, and named after the Payette River. It was founded by French-Canadian François Payette, who was originally a fur trapper with the North West Company.

As of the 2010 census, the population was 22,623. Payette County is comprised of 3 cities: Payette, Fruitland, and New Plymouth. Payette is the county seat and is the largest of the three cities, with a population of 7,414. Payette was originally settled as a railroad camp and called Boomerang for the log boom on the Payette River.
