MORE ABOUT 1045 POLK ROAD 18

One of the best features of this property is the large, covered porch that wraps around nearly half the home. It's the kind of place where you can sit in the shade, enjoy the breeze, watch wildlife move through the timber, and relax after a long day outdoors.

The acreage itself is loaded with character. Large hardwood trees provide excellent shade around the homesite, and the property includes two ponds that add both beauty and functionality. Deer sign is abundant throughout the property, and large whitetail herds are regularly seen in the area, making this an excellent small hunting or recreational tract. The property also offers a nice pasture area suitable for livestock or a small hobby farm setup, though some new fencing would likely be needed to fully utilize it.
