Talkeetna, Alaska - Gateway to Denali Tourism

Talkeetna is a premier Alaska tourism destination and a recognized gateway to Denali National Park, attracting thousands of visitors traveling along the Anchorage to Denali corridor.

Approximately 90% of visitors arrive by road, supported by Alaska Railroad traffic and organized motorcoach tours. Talkeetna also captures a significant share of Alaska cruise tourism, which brings over one million visitors annually, many of whom pass directly through this market as part of Denali travel packages.

High-Traffic Tourism Investment Opportunity

This tourism-driven commercial property benefits from highly predictable visitor patterns and direct delivery of customers into the immediate trade area:

- Peak Season (May - September):
1,500 to 3,000+ visitors daily, including approximately 1,000 cruise passengers per day
- Shoulder Season (April & October):
500 to 1,000 visitors daily, extending income stability

With tour buses and lodge transportation stopping directly across the street, tenants benefit from continuous, walkable customer flow throughout the day.

Major Demand Driver - Princess Wilderness Lodge

The nearby Mount McKinley Princess Wilderness Lodge (approximately 460 rooms) is one of Alaska's largest inland tourism destinations and a major driver of daily foot traffic.

Guests are transported into Talkeetna via scheduled shuttle service and guided tours, with regular stops directly across the street from the property, creating a reliable, built-in customer pipeline for surrounding retail businesses.

Cash Flow + Long-Term Upside

This cash-flowing commercial property for sale in Alaska offers:

- Immediate rental income
- Low-management ownership structure
- Diversified tenant base
- Strong alignment with Alaska's tourism economy

Additional upside includes

- Reconfiguring units for higher rents
- Expanding food and beverage tenants
- Increasing utilization of parking and outdoor space

Ideal For Buyers Searching

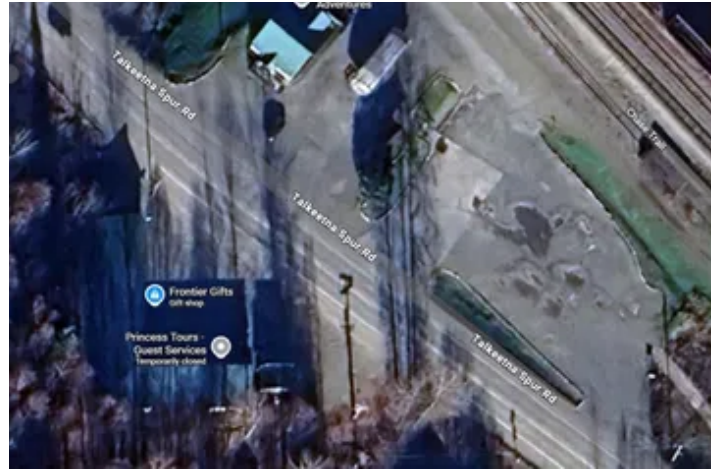

- Alaska commercial real estate for sale
- Talkeetna investment property
- Retail strip mall investment
- Passive income commercial property
- Denali National Park investment property
- Tourism-driven real estate opportunities
- Cash-flowing commercial property in Alaska

Summary

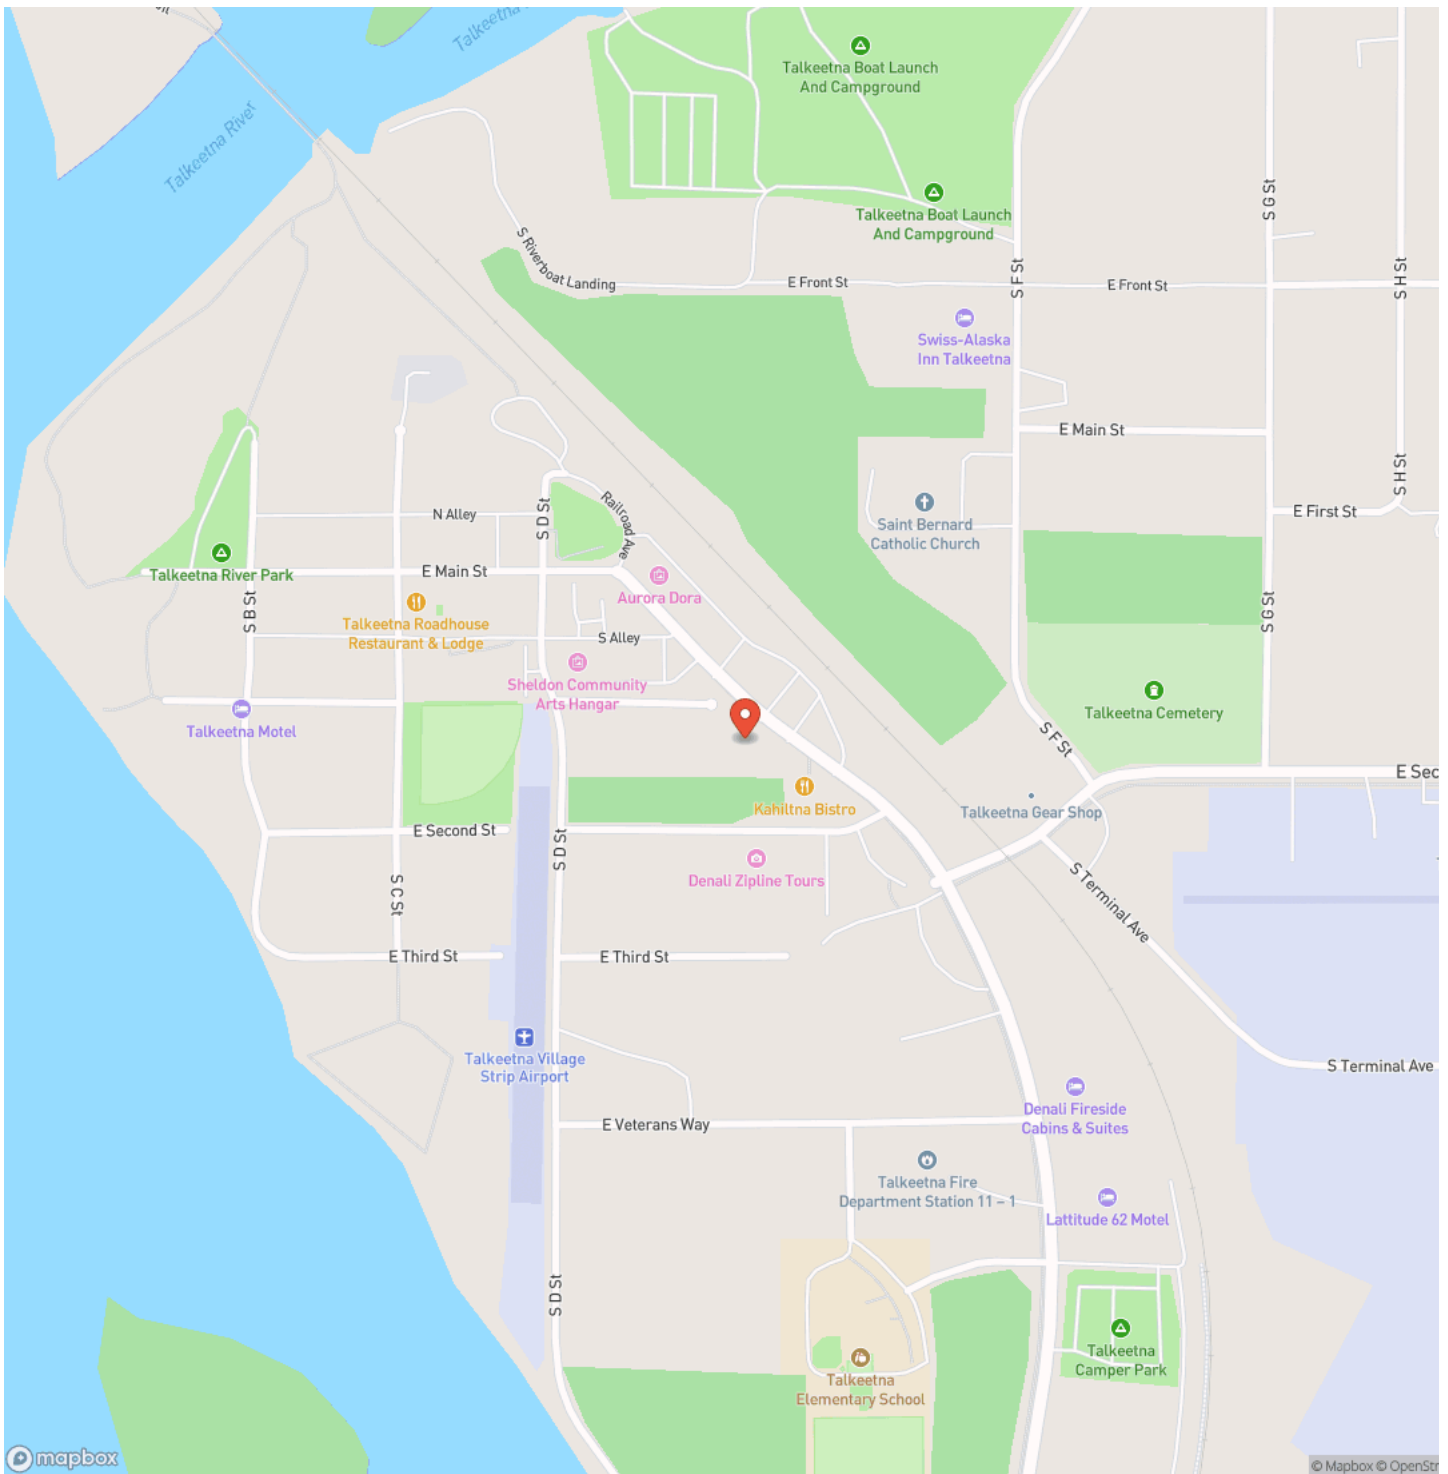

This is a rare opportunity to acquire a fully leased, income-producing retail strip mall in Talkeetna, Alaska, positioned directly within one of the most active tourism corridors in Alaska near Denali National Park. With tour buses and Princess Lodge shuttles stopping across the street, the property benefits from direct, consistent customer flow, delivering stable cash flow, strong visibility, and long-term growth potential.
