

N3020 RD

This is an aerial photograph of a rural landscape. A prominent cyan-colored stepped boundary is drawn across the center of the image, consisting of several rectangular segments. To the right of this boundary, a vertical road is labeled 'N3020 RD'. The entire map is overlaid with a network of thin, irregular yellow lines that follow the contours of the terrain. The terrain itself is a mix of dark brown, textured areas (likely forest or brush) and lighter, more uniform patches (possibly fields or cleared land).